Certificate of Source and Authenticity

I, AKAMATSU, Sukeyuki, who was an official of the Foreign Office from June, 1911, to June, 1931, and, after retiring from the office, was the secretary general of the International Association of Japan (a corporation aggregate), hereby certify that the book hereto attached, written in Japanese, consisting of preface (2 pages), table of contents (19 pages) and text (528 pages), duodecimo in size, entitled "The international conditions in 1935, by AKAMATSU, Sukeyuki", was written by me under a special order of the above Association, at the time when I was the secretary-general, as mentioned above.

The International Association of Japan, recognizing that at those days the desire for the publication of books which would correctly and faithfully describe the international affairs was increasing among the Japanese people, ordered me to write this book.

I wrote this book upon materials which I could get at those days in the International Association and which I deemed correct.

This book was published by the International Association of Japan, in June 14, 1936, as No. 169 of the International Association of Japan Series.

I hereby certify the above.

Certified at Tokyo,

on this 21st day of August, 1947.

No. 990, Meguro 3-Chome, Meguro-ward, Tokyo City
